FIRST SESSION EVER HELD IN

A Very Pleasant Day at "Chatsworth." Mr. Chaffin's Farm-Addresses by Colonel Thomas Whitehead, Major Mann Page, and Colonel Curtis.

The first meeting of the Virginia Farmers' Institute convened yesterday at "Chatsworth," Mr. R. B. Chaffin's farm, three miles from Richmond, on the Osborne turn-wives and daughters.

About three hundred persons were present, consisting chiefly of farmers, their vives and daughters.

Mr. Chaffin had arranged every comfort possible for their reception and, the inspection under his guidance of the farm and its equipments fully repaid all for the trip. "Chatsworth" is just across the river from Drewry's Bluff and its in, every respect a model dairy farm. Men were busy cutting and storing ensilage into the immense above ground silos, which when filled will hold about 900 tons. A beautiful horizonal en-ground silos, which when filled will hold about 900 tons. A boattifal horizonal engine was at work and all the cutting and storing was done by steam with improved machinery. Mr. Chaffin has on his place 180 head of mileh cows, most of which are of the highest breeding and registered. System was visable everywhere and life and activity seeined to reign.

The latest improvements in butter making were exhibited and explained to the visitors, and much was learned that had never before been thought of by many of those present. Mr. Chaffin is now erecting a huge barn in the form of a Greek cross, each wing of which will be one hundred and seventy-two feet long. and seventy-two feet long.

Rev. Lewis Guy, chaplain of the Henrico County Alliance, then offered a prayer.

to make the calling of agriculture a success and an honor to the land. I am speaking the sentiment of the State, of the Board, and of every sensible man, when I say I stretch my hand across the bloody chasm and welcome—gladly welcome—every man who has the agricultural interest at heart."

MAJOR PAGE.

"Remember, farmers," he said, "that the making of ensilage is very simple. All you have to do to cut your corn, pack it into an air-tight silo, and cover it over with straw, about two feet deep, leaving the outer edge of the corn the highest. The growth of the mould on corn will do the rest. Ensilage has been kept seven years, and perhanal.

At the conclusion of Mr. Whitehead's address, which occupied about fifteen minutes, the president introduced Maj. Mann Page, president of the State Alliance, who would reply to the welcoming address. Maj. Page stated that though he was heavily pressed with business when he received the invitation to speak, he could not refuse when he remembered the object of the meeting, when he remembered that the interest of the farmers and the Farmers' Alliance was address the choir sang "Hold the Fort, for I am Coming." invitation to speak, he could not refuse when he remembered the object of the meeting, when he remembered that the interest of the farmers and the Farmers' Alliance was at stake. He said he desired to correct the impression that the Farmers' Alliance had any connection with any political party, but that they were only asking simple divistice, and that they did not meddle with politics. He said he was glad that the farmers had at last awakened to the fact that in union there was strength.

"We are here, brethren and fellow-citizens, to learn something, and we have these learned professors with us to teach us. Colonel Whitehead seemed disappointed at the size of this meeting, but I arm not. I know this is a larger meeting than the one which assembled in the little church on the hill in Richmond, which was the starting point of personal liberty in this countries. There is a twistering point of personal liberty in this countries.

our grievances, and then to bring to the attention of the public, and we be that then our troubles will be righted."

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE, makes fat. 1 want growth. The same food that will make milk will make growth in young animals.

"In order to build up our lost farms we must have more intelligence in farming. You must study the subject so that you can compete with the farmers of the world. Skill and judgment are the things that count and not brute force. Study the agricultural papers of the day. They will help you. I want every farmer here to go home and subscribe to several agricultural journals."

Page arose and thanked Colonel Curtis in the name of the farmers present, and said that he wished that every farmer in the State could have heard it.

HAPPY TIME. The choir then sang "Happy Time" from the Alliance song-book, and the meeting djourned until afternoon.

Chatter-More Speeches.

After dinner all again assembled, and the president called, the meeting to order at 2:45 o'clock. He then introduced l'rofessor W. T. Massey, of the North Carolina Experimental Station. His subject was, "The dairy cow and how to feed her." Professor Massey is a Virginian, and has only been in North Carolina about a year. He said North Carolina was ahead of Virginia in respect to farmer's alliances and institutes and that their work was being felt for

Rev. Lewis Guy, chaplain of the Henrico County Alliance, then offered a prayer.

COLONEL WHITEHEAD.

The choir next sang the Gospel bymn, "To the Work," after which Hon. Thomas Whitehad arose a midst loud applause and delivered the address of welcome. Mr. Whitehead said that those who do the best they can are entitled to the praise of the world. "We have done our best, and now you are assembled to participate in the first Farmers' Institute in Virginia, and if we do the best we can it will be successful, and the praise will be ours.

NO MACHINE COWS.

A cow should be looked upon, he said, simply as a machine for transforming food into milk, butter, or beef, but that to get the benefit of the machine it must be fed to its fullest capacity. He also gave some useful nits on the art of storing ensilage. He said that forty pounds per day was about enough for each cow, and that one cubic foot of space would contain forty pounds of ensilage. Thus it would be easy to ascertain the necessary size of the world. "We have done our best, and now you are assembled to participate in the first Farmers' Institute in Virginia, and if we do the best we can it will be successful, and the praise will be ours. the best we can it will be successful, and the praise will be ours.

"Only give the Old Dominion a fair chance, and the will show you that she will and can be first.

"The Board of Agriculture are here, and practical men from other States are here to instruct the farmers, and to show them how to make the calling of agriculture a success and an honor to the land. I am speaking the sentiment of the State, of the Board, the success are to give the servery with straw about two feet.

MPORTANT SESSION OF THE STREET COMMITTEE.

Mr. Fisher Unprepared to Make Definite Statements-Talk About Finance and Bonds-Physicians For the Poor-St.

To-night at 7 o'clock the Common Council will meet to consider the ordinance relating to the election precincts in Clay Ward, and an ordinance designating the voting places in the different election precincts throughout in the different election precise the city.

At 7:30 o'clock the Board of Aldermen will meet to concur in such action as has been previously taken by the Council.

At 8 o'clock a joint session will be held to make a numerical designation of the justices of peace of the city, and to designate the justice who shall hold the sessions of the Police Court during the absence of Justice Crutchfield. There was a meeting last night in the City whom the Street Committee referred the questions of the removal of the Marshall street railway track from Fourteenth and Main to Hancock and Marshall, and of al' lowing the Richmond Union Passenger Railway Company to connect its tracks with those of the Main-street line by a double track down Twenty-first from Franklin to What is Going On of Interest on the Other Main and up Seventh from Main to Franklin.

Mr. Stratton presided, and the first point discussed was as to the Marshall-street line.

Mr. G. E. Fisher, who represents the stockholders of this line, stated that he could not make a proposition as yet as to what his company would do in the premises; that he had attended the meeting wholly unprepared to take any action, and would, of course, have to confer with his associates before arething could be done. before anything could be done.

He stated further that he did not think it probable that any other company would ever ask for the franchise; that it was demonstrated clearly to him that the present company did not make the line pay, and that that fact alone would discourage other capitalists from asking for the road.

. Turpin wished to know if the co pany proposed to relinquish all of their line, and in reply it was stated by Mr. Fisher that he did not know as yet what s company would do.

INFORMAL DISCUSSION.

At this juncture of the meeting an in-formal discussion of the subject was gone into, participated in by the committee, Mr. Fisher, Major Seldon, Mr. Meredith, Colonel Frank Ruffin, Colonel Cutshaw, and Major
